Scene of Fighting in China

Shaded area on map shows 11 Chinese provinces where Chungking reports said fighting is going on between Communist troops and forces of the central government. Communists announced capture of Linpingwang in Hopen. U. S. Marines in the Peiping area are not involved.

U.S. Troops Are Source Of Tension

Presence of Our Marines in China Bolsters Uneasiness Between Factions

Clash Is Feared Observers Say Chinese Reds May Provoke Trouble

Chungking, Oct. 30 (AP)—Charges that the United States is meddling in Chinese internal affairs, today increased the tension in the Chinese capital, where political observers already tensely are watching for the possible outbreak of civil war between Nationalist and Communist troops.

Reports from Tientsin said the American Marine garrison there had been alerted after reports spread through North China that the clash between the two armies was impending.

Presence of the estimated 60,000 Marines in North China, and the transfer of Chinese Nationalist troops into that area by the American Air Force, were the basis of the protest against American actions which was issued by a Communist spokesman. He charged the United States with "interfering in China's internal politics."

Non-Communist quarters said they feared that the Communists might deliberately provoke a clash with the Marines with the intention of embarrassing the United States and central governments and arousing agitation in the United States for immediate withdrawal of American forces from China.

Central government troop movements into the unsettled North China regions were considerably hampered by the reported cutting of 100 miles of the Peiping-Hankow railroad, and burning of bridges by Communist troops.

Nationalist troops continued northward along the Peiping-Mukden route, however, reportedly to take "defensive positions" along the great wall.

The Peiping dispatches which reported the alerting of the Marines said minor clashes had been reported outside the city. Tientsin itself was quiet, but beginning to suffer food shortages, because of the breakdown of supply lines, either by Communist troops or roving bandits.

The dispatch said that Nationalist troops now were in Tientsin "in force" and had disarmed an estimated 1,500 officers and men of the Third Advance Army and arrested at least 200 irregular officers, including some generals.

Stray Animals Reported Numerous reports of stray animals, including horses and cattle, are being received these days at the sheriff's office. One of the latest comes from E. H. Potter at Wawarsing, who has had a fine Holstein heifer, owner unknown, about his place for several days.

Major C. N. Behrens Is Still Awaiting Decision Although Major Charles N. Behrens, who was serving as director of public assistance of the city's welfare board when he entered the armed forces, had applied for reinstatement to his civilian post on August 16, action on his application was again deferred at the meeting of the board held on Monday.

Ernest Heppner, one of the members of the board, was unable to attend the meeting, owing to illness, and it was for that reason that action on the Behrens petition was deferred. The other members of the board are Russell Howard, serving as president, and W. Kenneth Kukuk.

The post held by Major Behrens before he entered the service, has been filled by Henry Fisher, who is acting as director.

No Rationing New Cars Not on List

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—There'll be no rationing of new automobiles.

The O.P.A. and W.P.B. have decided it isn't necessary because "there is no longer danger of a general transportation breakdown." However, they ask dealers to give preference, when sales begin, to customers whose need is urgent.

"Naturally," said O.P.A. Administrator Chester Bowles, "some individuals will be inconvenienced by their inability to buy new cars right away."

"We ask, however, that dealers everywhere give special consideration to unusual hardship cases." Ceiling prices for new cars have not yet been fixed, but many dealers have been accepting orders for months.

Russia Stays Away From Session of Allied Commission

Officials Wait for Soviet Word but Get None; Group Lacks Much Authority

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—An Allied Commission to advise on governing Japan gathered today with Russia on the sidelines.

Officials waited into the early morning for word that the Soviet Union had decided belatedly to participate.

The word never came. The Russians have insisted that the U.S.S.R., Britain, China and the United States should set up a control council in Tokyo.

Officials said for the record that they were confident the ten-nation Advisory Commission could be a success anyway. They conceded privately that the prospects for any effective teamwork among nations with a stake in the Far East would be gloomy indeed if Russia ignored the commission.

When he first proposed it, after the Japanese surrender, Secretary of State Byrnes had called it the "Far Eastern Advisory Commission."

But the terms which he sent along with his proposal made it clear that the commission—at least at the start—was to limit its activities to advising how Japan could best live up to its surrender obligations.

Specifically, it was forbidden to make recommendations "with regard to the conduct of military operations" or "territorial adjustments."

Today, the group found itself to discuss the really pressing problem of war between Nationalist and Communist forces in China; the Indonesian-British clashes in Java, and the explosive Indo-China situation.

The terms also provided that the Commission's Headquarters should be Washington. Even if it goes to Tokyo on occasion, the commission's advice will not go to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, but back to the participating governments.

Yanks Seize $50,000,000 Opium Cache; MacArthur Refuses To Modify Diplomatic Order

War Department Asks Secretary Of Armed Forces Under Merger

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The War Department proposed to Congress today that the army, navy and air forces be placed under a single civilian "secretary of the armed forces."

Under the department head, who would be advised by military chiefs of staff and a secretariat of civilian assistants, the army proposed this organization of the services.

"The air force should include all land-based combat aircraft except those allotted to the army and navy for reconnaissance, spotting of gunfire, command and messenger service. The air should retain its own service forces."

"The army would include all combat ground forces other than the Marine Corps and would have its own service forces."

"The navy would include the United States fleet with its air arm, the Marine Corps and its service forces."

Each component apparently would be directed by a military rather than a civilian head, as at present.

Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff of the army and a veteran of European campaigns, presented the plan to the Senate Military Committee for the War Department.

He asserted the army was not proposing to "merge" the services, but to "integrate" them with maximum autonomy for each.

Collins' statement was the first detailed public discussion of the plan to establish at least three and possibly four assistant secretariats.

A civilian assistant secretary should be provided "to coordinate the military program of scientific research" with the activities of any national civilian research agency set up later and with the great civilian laboratories of the country, he said.

Each of the three armed forces, however, would have its own research group to work out its own special problems. The assistant secretary would coordinate the work of these units with outside agencies to prevent "wasteful duplication" of effort.

The army proposed an assistant secretary for procurement and industrial mobilization. Working with that office, but directly under the chief of staff of the armed forces would be another unit, the director of common supply and hospitalization. That officer, said Collins, should be responsible for procuring items needed commonly by all services, such as food and blankets.

Collins' statement also suggested a civilian assistant secretary to supervise legislative matters and public information. The

Supreme Leader Also Orders Arrest Of Genki Abe, One Of Police Organizers

Reports Ordered Zarbatsu Must Give Details to MacArthur in 45 Days

Tokyo, Oct. 30 (AP)—Occupation troops operating under General MacArthur's directive to stamp out the Japanese narcotics industry, which supplied approximately 90 per cent of the world's illicit traffic, today seized an opium cache worth $50,000,000 in smugglers' pipes.

The Americans also located tons of other narcotics worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The supreme commander, meanwhile, in two directives, ordered the arrest of Genki Abe, one of the organizers of the hated Japanese "thought police," and commanded that the confidential files of the 15 largest Zaiabatsu be reported to him.

In another major action, MacArthur declined in a personal interview granted Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida to modify in the slightest the recent directive diplomatically isolating Japan from the rest of the world.

Artillerymen of the 97th Division, commanded by Brig. Gen. Sherman V. Hasbrouck, made the big narcotics haul in the Nagano district of central Honshu.

Capt. John F. Kelly, the division's artillery medical officer, estimated the legal price of the lot at $50,000,000 but said that the four tons of opium alone would bring $50,000,000 in illicit traffic in the United States.

The find included more than $200,000 worth of morphine, novocaine and cocaine, besides medical and dental equipment enough for three complete hospitals.

Quinine Is Found Another warehouse produced 30 tons of quinine, which the medical officer said would have been enough to protect 1,000,000 American soldiers from malaria for a month.

Under today's order, the Japanese government was instructed to deliver Abe, who besides his "thought police" activities was Japanese Home Minister in Premier Kantaro Suzuki's surrender cabinet, to American officers for incarceration in Omori prison, where a number of other former war lords awaiting war criminal trials.

MacArthur's new Zaiabatsu directive ordered the 15 companies to prepare within 45 days from October 22 exhaustive reports disclosing complete financial and production records for the war years 1935 through 1944; lists of all foreign nationals who owned any shares in that period; annual lists of major customers and details on capitalization, balance sheets, property holdings, investments, bank records, loans and major stockholders.

Specifically named in the directive were the "Big Five"—Mitsui, Sanwa, Dai-Ichi Kangyo Bank, Industrial Bank of Japan, and Tokai-Mitsubishi Bank.

The new directive emphasized Allied insistence upon compliance.

Brum to Address Veterans

Louis C. Brum, veteran of World War II, tonight at 7:45 over WKNY will discuss the veterans' interests in the current election campaign in Utter county. Brum will be sponsored by the Utter County Republican Central Committee.

Stang Outlines Good Government

County Attorney Cites Benefits Supervisors, Common Council Are Giving

County Attorney Fred Stang speaking to voters of the Ninth Ward last night, outlined the duties and accomplishments of the Board of Supervisors and the Common Council, both Republican dominated, and made an appeal for election of the entire Republican ticket November 6.

In praise of the Republican-dominated Board of Supervisors, Stang cited the achievements of that body over a period of several years. The County Tuberculosis Hospital on Golden Hill, the Public Health Nursing program, the excellent highway system, the Veterans Service and the general financial soundness of the county.

The Common Council, the speaker said, likewise has notable accomplishments: legislation insuring fair wages for city employees; championing of the rights of veterans; careful guardianship of the city budget to insure dollar-for-dollar value for taxpayers.

Stang also explained the Constitutional Tax Limitation and its legal bearing upon city budgets and cited the recent State Department of Audit and Control report upholding the Republican Common Council in terminating the 1944 budget excessive by $27,000.

Alertness Saves Taxpayers In commenting upon the alertness of the Republican Common Council, County Attorney Stang said, "When the 1945 budget was submitted to the Common Council, the Republican majority, through their alertness, discovered that only half of the amount the city was to receive this year from the State Emergency Tax on Public Utilities was included in the total amount of $30,000. The correction of this error by the Republican Majority, led to a reduction of $1.08 in the 1945 general tax rate."

Mayor Would Take Credit County Attorney Stang also remarked upon the readiness of Mayor William Edelbluth to claim credit for the economic welfare of local residents during the nation's boom years. What this city mayor, he said in effect, is a man like the Molynauxs for mayor, someone with vision and foresight to keep our government house in order in the future ahead.

Text of County Attorney Stang's address follows:

I should like to talk to you tonight about the Board of Supervisors of Utter County and the Common Council of City of Kingston. The Board of Supervisors is composed of 33 members, one elected from each of the 20 towns of the county and one from each of the 13 wards of the City.

The Board of Supervisors is the governing body of the county, and its task is, among other duties, to protect the economic welfare of the residents during the nation's boom years. What this city mayor, he said in effect, is a man like the Molynauxs for mayor, someone with vision and foresight to keep our government house in order in the future ahead.

Truman Will Ask 48 Hours Pay for Work of 40 Hours

Prices Would Not Be Raised, Except in Hardship Cases; Speaks at 10 P. M.

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Authoritative persons said President Truman will propose tonight that industry pay 48 hours wages for 40 hours work without raising prices.

They said he will make this request in a broadcast at 10 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) as a compromise with demands by unions that employees be paid for 52 hours while working 40.

The compromise, if accepted by industry and labor, would give workers a 20 per cent increase in pay compared with the 30 per cent the unions ask.

Exceptions to holding the line on prices would be made in cases which would work a hardship on the employer, persons informed of the plan said.

Price rise requests would be handled through the Office of Price Administration and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

If the subject comes before the labor-management conference opening next Monday some enforcement machinery conceivably could be adopted. But industry agreement might be difficult to obtain.

The President will discuss wages and prices with as many of the 18 management and 18 labor delegates as he can meet before the conference.

Today he invited A.F.L. Secretary-Treasurer George Meany to discuss the issues with him, along with James M. Duffy, of East Liverpool, Ohio, president of the A.F.L. potters, an alternate delegate. Teamster President Daniel J. Tobin, a power in the A.F.L., expects to see the President next Sunday.

Delegates May Confer C.I.O. delegates are expected to confer with Mr. Truman on Friday. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, is believed to have been invited Thursday, although there has been no announcement.

Both labor and management have contended that lack of a government policy has blocked collective bargaining. C.I.O. President Philip Murray said at a luncheon yesterday industry was engaged in a sit-down and not a

Nation's Traffic Deaths Gain 40 Per Cent in Month

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in September—the first full calendar month of unrestricted buying of gasoline—were 2,830, an increase of 40 per cent over the same month last year, the National Safety Council said today.

The Council said there is every indication "that the worst is yet to come." Traffic fatalities have gone up steadily since July, and the Council said the most hazardous part of the year for driving is just ahead—months of darkness, fog, snow, sleet and icy roads.

In July traffic deaths went up 15 per cent over July, 1944; in August the increase was 26 per cent and last month 40 per cent. The Council said the death toll for the first nine months this year was 25,450 against 18,200 for the corresponding period in 1944.

White Plains, N. Y., was one of 39 cities reporting perfect records for the nine months period.

The Council expressed belief the postwar increase in traffic fatalities is running ahead of any upsurge in traffic volume. It urged checkups of war-worn cars and extra caution in driving.

The Council cited that the 2,830 lives lost in motor accidents last month were almost three times as many as were lost at Tientsin in one of the war's bloodiest battles.

"Does this pile-up of traffic tragedy mean that America is willing to pay higher price in human life for enjoying peace than for gaining it?" asked Ned H. Dearborn, Council president.

The 18,850 total includes 3,160 persons killed in urban areas and 11,290 in rural.

Strings Are Tied To UNRRA Fund; Amendment Loses

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee tied several legislative strings today to a recommended new $550,000,000 fund for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA).

But it turned down, after hearing State Department opposition, a proposed "free press" amendment which would have required nations receiving UNRRA aid give United States newsprint free access to UNRRA news abroad.

The recommended $550,000,000 would boost to $1,350,000,000 the total United States contribution to the agency set up by 45 United Nations to provide relief and rehabilitation to liberated countries.

That was the total amount originally promised by this country as its contribution to the cooperative organization. Total contributions of all nations up to last September 30 were $1,294,166,000.

But Herbert H. Lehman, director general of UNRRA, told the committee an additional appropriation of $1,350,000,000 will be necessary soon.

The committee wrote these restrictions into the legislation:

No new relief supplies shall be shipped to any country except China after December 31, 1946, and none to China after March 31, 1947. The committee said it wanted to "establish well in advance a date for cessation of activity."

As much as possible, surplus agricultural commodities must be used in filling UNRRA's needs.

None of the money shall be used after December 31, 1945, unless UNRRA certifies that recipient countries have agreed to make available to UNRRA all information on trade and barter agreements and satisfactory information on exports. This requires recipient nations also to agree to furnish UNRRA, all necessary facilities, credentials, documents and safe conduct necessary for on-the-scene investigations.

The latter limitation, the committee said, is intended to enable UNRRA to "make an intelligent determination of the need for relief or rehabilitation in any country" or determine whether supplies are reaching their destinations and being used properly.

During its hearings on the legislation, the committee heard reports that official UNRRA personnel had been denied free movement in some countries receiving aid.

In rejecting an amendment by Rep. Hester (R., Mass.) to give overseas "full liberty to observe and report upon the distribution and utilization of UNRRA supplies, the committee followed the advice of Lehman and Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton. It did not act on a resolution proposed by Rep. Clarence Brown (R., Ohio) to give American maximum free activity privileges in all reporting on countries receiving UNRRA funds.

Both Hester's and Brown's amendments were expected to be the subjects of a fight when the legislation comes before the House.

M.P.'s Stand Guard Over Nome Buildings

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 30 (AP)—Military Police are standing guard today over buildings which contain all winter supplies for the storm-battered town.

Martial law was declared here yesterday by Col. W. B. Morgan, commanding officer of the Nome Army Base, after a snow-whipped wave undermined structures along the waterfront and piled water a foot deep on Nome's main street.

Winds swept down the Bristol Strait at 30 to 80 miles an hour yesterday, leveled the village of Unalakleet, whipped across Nome, and then moved southward.

Rationing Board Moves The Kingston War Price and Rationing Board on Monday moved from the Milburn building on Prince Street to its new quarters on the second floor of the municipal auditorium.

The rationing board is sharing part of the large room in the auditorium with the local Red Cross. Entrance to the auditorium is by way of the side door on Hoffman street.

Tokyo, Oct. 30 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito's imperial household fortune amounts to 1,590,615,500 yen, or slightly more than $106,000,000, Allied Headquarters announced today.

The total, supplied Allied Headquarters in compliance with General MacArthur's directive, includes cash, negotiable instruments, real estate and timber holdings, but does not include silver bullion, art objects and jewelry, which will be reported later.

The figure does not include household fortunes of the 14 imperial princes.

Liberty Man, 41 Takes Own Life

Mrs. Emily Rosch Finds Body of Husband; Used Shotgun

Liberty, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Emily Rosch, candidate for collector of the town of Liberty, returned from a political party at 1 a. m. today to find her husband, Eugene F. Rosch, 41, dead in the locked kitchen of their home.

Coroner Lee R. Tompkins said Rosch, son of former Supreme Court Justice Joseph Rosch of Albany, had committed suicide by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun. The coroner said Rosch had been despondent.

Rosch had been an assistant to a civil engineer. Two of the couple's four children, Carol, 16, and Bobby, 5, were in the house but were not awakened by the shot.

The other children are Joseph, in the Navy and stationed in Tokyo, and Elaine, a student at the State Teachers College at Oneonta, N. Y. Rosch was born at Port Jervis, N. Y.

Widows Blame Jap Troops In Killing of Officers

Manila, Oct. 30 (AP)—The killing of two high Filipino Army officers was ascribed by their widows today to Japanese troops under command of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita at his trial on war crime charges.

Meanwhile, an indication that the strategy of the fallen Tiger of Malaya will be more than a mere negative defense of war crime responsibility charges was the arrival in Tokyo of one of his American Army attorneys, Maj. George F. Gay, on an evidence-gathering mission.

Gay would not disclose the nature of the information he sought, but he told newspapermen that he had found much more evidence on behalf of Yamashita than was believed to exist. He planned to return to Manila late this week or early next week.

The tall, paunchy, bullet-headed ex-commander of Japan's Philippine occupation army listened intently as the widow of Lt. Col. Nelo Valdes told how the Japanese killed her husband and Lt. Col. Jose Guido after demobilizing them. The officers and 20 other Filipinos were slain by the invaders in the Singalong residential district of Manila last February 7, she testified, adding that Japanese attempted to rape her daughter the following day.

Listening to her account was the commander of the Philippine Army, Maj. Gen. Basilio Valdes, brother of Nelo.

The widow of Colonel Guido sobbingly testified that Japanese soldiers tied up her husband and three sons then led them to death after plundering the Guido home of 5,000 pesos ($2,500) and some ancestral jewelry.

The new directive emphasized Allied insistence upon compliance.

Mantell Garage Burns at Ellenville

McDowell Building Is Damaged by Flames

A garage, just opened on North Main street, Ellenville, by Judson Mantell, was burned and the north side of the large frame building occupied by John McDowell & Son, adjoining, suffered considerable damage from fire which broke out in the garage about 9:45 Monday morning. The fire is thought to have started when a heater exploded.

Mantell, just discharged from the army, opened the garage, formerly the Kindberg gas station building, last week. The entire interior was burned, along with contents, which included an automobile owned by John Dubinsky. The fire spread to the two-story McDowell building close by and burned it to the side before the fire was able to bring it under control. There was considerable damage to the office in the front part of the building and furniture stored on the second floor was damaged.

The former McDowell sales stables building, just south, which was remodeled and now houses the Greco bowling alleys, was not damaged. No estimate was available as to the amount of loss.

Attlee Will Come To U. S. to Talk Of Atomic Energy

meanwhile, pushed along President Truman's proposals for atomic energy controls by approving legislation creating a nine-man commission to supervise domestic development of the new power.

The legislation, written by an interim committee of scientists and government leaders, would permit scientists to experiment freely in the field of atomic energy provided operations are not "on a scale which would constitute a national hazard."

The bill may reach the House floor next week.

The proposed commission would have general supervision over all activities in the field of atomic energy, would be empowered to acquire mineral deposits and other properties used in the development of atomic energy. It could not, however, deal with foreign interests or individuals without presidential approval.

Truman Will Ask 48 Hours Pay for Work of 40 Hours

single labor agreement had been negotiated since V-J day.

C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, declared at a recent news conference that "what you might call the wage-price policy for the economic policy of the country for peacetime has not been too well worked out."

Walter Reuther, vice-president of the C.I.O.-auto workers, flew to Washington to confer with Secretary of Labor Schwelbensch today. General Motors has rejected the union's request for 30 percent pay rise. Wilson proposed instead the workers go on a 45-hour week.

The whole wage-price issue revolves about the fact union labor generally worked a wartime 48-hour week, getting time and a half for the extra eight hours. This meant 52 hours pay for 48 hours work.

What the unions have wanted is to get the same pay as in wartime in changing back from the 48-hour to the regular 40-hour week, under Mr. Truman's reported proposal they would get a little less pay than in wartime but work eight hours less.

Chevrolet Men Return to Sales Force of City Firm

"Jim" Millard, who gave up the Ford production board in Washington, D. C., has returned to civilian employment as a salesman for Chevrolet.

John Swarthout of Bloomington, who has been serving in the armed forces, has returned as stock room clerk, a position which he held for 15 years, and G. M. Russell of Saugerties, who has been acting as stock room clerk during the war, will continue as assistant in that department.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Selling was exceptionally light in today's stock market but it was sufficient to give leading industrials and rails a further jolt to lower levels.

Reports the President in his broadcast tonight would advocate higher wages and a maintenance of current prices again served to chill bullish contingents although most were loath to do any indiscriminate liquidating. Thoughts of tax cuts offsetting pay boosts propped sentiment to some extent. The cloudy labor picture, plus international dissensions, inspired much investment caution.

In the losing bracket most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodyear, Eastern Air Lines, Douglas Aircraft, Santa Fe, du Pont, Allied Chemical, National Distillers, American Can and General Electric. Occasional advances were posted for American Telephone, Great Northern and Western Auto Supply. Many pivots were virtually unchanged.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city branch office, 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

probably tomorrow. The House Republican Steering Committee, which shapes party policy, already has approved the principle of the amendments.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes informed the committee in a letter that a less restrictive free press amendment might be satisfactory but warned against "a process which may lead to the imposition of restrictive and undesirable conditions on U.N.R.R.A.'s operations by other countries."

Byrnes' Attitude

An amendment which Byrnes said would not impose "impossible administrative burdens or responsibilities inappropriate to an international organization" would have provided "that the press of such country (receiving the aid) will be permitted to publish all statements, relating to the operations of the administration, in such country, made by the administrative head of the administration's mission in such country."

Some committee members, notably Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.), had claimed during the hearings that free publicity about how U.N.R.R.A.'s funds were being used was necessary to prevent use of the agency for "power politics."

The committee made public an audit of U.N.R.R.A.'s finances by the New York firm of Deloitte, Plender, Giffiths & Co. It said "detailed records generally were found to be in a state of confusion" at "certain points of operation," but "our examination does not lead us to believe that there has been any wrongful diversion of the administration's resources."

Lehman told the committee U.N.R.R.A. now is operating in Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Italy. But he warned that many European nations face a hard winter and will see much suffering and death, even with U.N.R.R.A.

Grange Officials Tell of Need for Action by Farmers

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Two officials of the Grange League Federation Exchange said today there was a necessity for farmer cooperative action at the community level.

J. A. McConnell, Ithaca, G.L.F. general manager, told the three-state stockholders meeting in a prepared address that the individual farmer, even the larger one, can no longer deal with the bigness of business, government and labor organizations "except through co-operation."

A. L. Hibbins, Buffalo, head of the G.L.F. feed and seed division, said in his prepared address that farmers supplied themselves with needed feed for their dairy herds and poultry flocks during the past year—despite handicaps of "manpower, boxcar and protein shortages—through individual cooperation on a local basis.

"This could not have been done without the cooperation of the individual farmer in the local services he controls, nor without unity of purpose," he declared.

About 1,000 farmer-elected committee members attended the meeting. The Cooperative serves more than 150,000 farmer members in New York and northern Pennsylvania. McConnell placed the year's wholesale purchasing and marketing service total of the G.L.F. at $110,491,000 and added:

"It is G.L.F.'s objective to put G.L.F. operations both as to quality and as to service on the highest levels in history, just as fast as conditions will permit. At this moment some of the worst shortages since 1942 prevail. The war may be over, but the effects are still here."

In his prepared address Frank M. Smith of Springfield Center, G.L.F. president, declared that "the farmers only hope of prosperity is abundant production of food for a high level of nutrition for the public in general."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Perennial Pledge

Seattle, Oct. 30 (AP)—Lt. Col. Gregory Boyington, back in Seattle on behalf of the Victory Loan, dropped out to the University of Washington to complete a little matter left hanging since 1930.

He was initiated into Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

"I was a perennial pledge when I was attending the university," grinned the marine ace. "I never had enough dough to be initiated."

Striped Effect

Salt Lake City, Oct. 30 (AP)—A new hairdo—"sunk locks"—has been adopted by the bobby-soxers at the South High School.

Dark-haired girls use bleaching solution to turn one lock of hair blonde.

Co-ed Darleen Buckley admitted the result was startling, and she added:

"My parents were stunned at first—but they're reconciled now."

Total War

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 30 (AP)—There was a little too much realism, Sheriff Harold Hubbell decided, in the mock war staged by seven boys on the city's outskirts.

He investigated after a youngster at a school playground was hit in the shoulder by a stray shot. Hubbell found the "soldiers" ranging from 10 to 14 years of age, divided into two armies, each armed with one 22 rifle and peppering away at one another.

They were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Thirsty

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—Alex Aratri, 48, was asked by Municipal Judge Jay A. Schiller to explain why he jumped into the Chicago river.

"You weren't trying to commit suicide, were you?" the court asked. "Heavens, no!" Aratri said. "I can swim. Just went in for a drink of water."

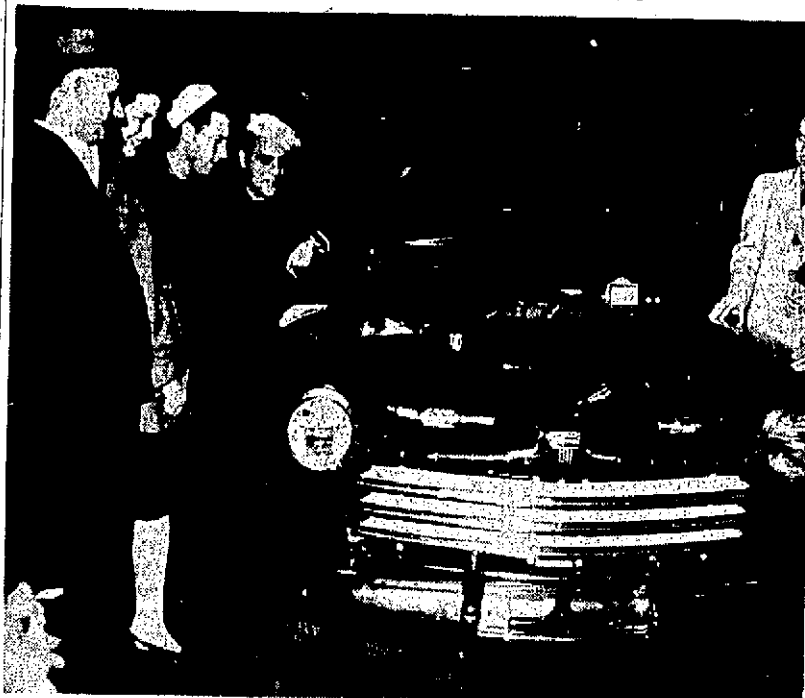

A charge of disorderly conduct was dismissed.

Hits Home

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30 (AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor (A.F.L.) were advised that no printed programs, giving data on the three-day session, would be available.

Members of the A.F.L. Spring-

Geld Typographical Union went on strike as the convention opened in a dispute over wages.

Britain Takes Over Strike-Bound Ports

London, Oct. 30 (AP)—The government virtually took over all of Britain's strike-bound ports today, ordering out thousands of additional troops to unload all ships and get the nation's export trade moving.

Hitherto during the six-week-old stevedore strike soldiers had been used only to unload food ships.

The Ministry of War Transport, in announcing the government's decision, said the number of troops used would be increased as necessity dictated. So far 17,500 have been assigned.

Approximately 40,000 dock workers are now out.

The Ojibway Indian name for the red squirrel is Adjidaumo, meaning, "tall-in-the-air."

The way a small sailing boat sits in the water is called her trim.

U. S. War Vessels Leave New York

Big Mo Will Stay in Port Until Nov. 15

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Units of the mighty armada of American fighting craft, assembled for the most spectacular Navy Day display in history, today began their exodus from New York harbor.

The Navy announced that 13 warships, including the carriers Midway—the world's most massive man of war—and Monterey, would depart during the day.

The 45,000 ton Midway is scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p. m. (E.S.T.). Others scheduled to leave are the cruisers Helena and Macon, four destroyers, four destroyer escorts and the carrier escort Cronlan.

The carrier Enterprise and the heavy cruisers Augusta, Boise and Columbus are scheduled to leave tomorrow.

The Navy announced that the battleship Missouri, scene of the formal Japanese surrender, would remain in port until November 15.

Good News from General Electric

DESPITE the sudden stopping of war work, employment at General Electric has declined less than 10 per cent overall. Rehiring is already under way, and it is expected that more people will be employed within six to eight months than were employed during the biggest prewar years.

What G-E people are making is shown, in part, by the list below. This list of things you and your family have wanted for many months shows the progress General Electric has made in swinging back to its regular job of making "More Goods for More People at Less Cost." General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Alarm Clocks. In January, 1944, WPB okayed making some electric alarm clocks. Within seven weeks, G. E. was in production.

Turbines. Full schedule peacetime production of steam turbines, source of two-thirds of the nation's electric power and the driving power for most of our fighting and merchant fleets, is expected to be reached by December.

Irons. In June, 1944, came authorization to make electric irons. In three months, G.E. was shipping irons. Today's rate is higher than 1941.

Motors. Ten million were built for war—many of special types and sizes. Now G-E lines are being quickly converted to production of standard types for washing machines, refrigerators, etc.

Refrigerators. After getting green light from WPB in June, 1945, G.E. was in production in eight weeks.

Transformers. Upwards of 70 small transformers were required for a single B-29 Superfortress. Now G-E facilities are turning them out again to help make electricity more useful to you.

Washers. Ten weeks from WPB go-ahead, G-E washer line started rolling in Bridgeport on August 24, 1945. Already they're being turned out at 47 per cent of G.E.'s prewar rate.

Street Lights and Flood Lights. Facilities that turned out mobile anti-aircraft searchlights for the Army, and thousands of signaling searchlights for the Navy, are now producing flood lights for sports and industry, and street lights to reduce the nation's night traffic toll.

Radioes. G-E radioes will be back on the market for Christmas. Table models will be in dealers' stores in November. By Christmas, 12 models should be in stores, including AC-DC battery portables, radio phonograph consoles. Television and FM will go into production after the first of the year.

Home Construction Materials. Wire, cable, fluorescent lampholders, etc., formerly for Army and Navy use, are now in production for your new home.

Ranges. Manufacture began on the first G-E electric ranges September 9, 1945. Three days later the first shipment was made.

Plastics Production. The plastics facilities of General Electric, largest manufacturer of finished plastic products in the country, have been turned to molding camera, clock and refrigerator parts, toaster and coffee-maker handles, canister wheels and wiring devices, radio cabinets, fluorescent bases, cosmetic jars and covers, industrial and decorative laminated materials, lighting reflectors and shades.

Water Coolers. Production at G.E. will equal prewar rate in November.

Automatic Heating. G.E. in January will have oil-fired boilers, conversion oil burners, gas-fired boilers, gas-fired warm air conditioners, all coming off the lines where radar, gunfire and aviation equipment was produced.

Farm Freezers. Will be ready in 1947.

Air Conditioners. One model of room air conditioner will be ready in limited numbers for your next summer's needs. First "store cooler" was shipped the day after V-J Day. More daily.

Radar. The G-E Electronic Navigator, to make ship navigation safer in fog and dark, and to speed shipping schedules, has been tested by many months of actual operation and will soon be available.

Exposure Motors. The new G-E exposure motor for amateur and professional photographers is in production. Present rate is several thousand a week.

Lamps. During the war, the Lamp Department did the double task of supplying both military and civilian needs. Now available once more, but in limited quantities, are such war-discontinued types as: 50- and 75-watt inside frost lamps, 50-100-150-watt medium base lamps, flame-shaped lamps, round decorative lamps, fluorescent lamps, humilite lamps. Christmas tree lights are in production but will be quite limited this holiday season.

Yes, indeed! By every rule of the Brewer's Art... and by every test of your own Taste-judgment... Stanton really is the best!

BEST because it's backed by 122 years of brewing tradition.

BEST because EXPERIENCE since 1817 OUGHT to count... DOES count.

BEST because Stanton Ale and Lager are made with only the finest... the most carefully chosen ingredients.

BEST because these beverages of moderation are truly aged to perfection.

Try Stanton Ale or Lager. You, too, will agree that STANTON IS THE BEST!

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE GREAT BETRAYALS

The Zionist leadership in the United States is not only outraged but humiliated by the betrayal exposed by the publication of the Roosevelt-Ibn Saud correspondence. For years they had led the Jews of this country and the world to believe that Franklin D. Roosevelt was not only a partisan of Jewish aspirations in Palestine but that he had set himself apart as an exponent of justice for the Jew everywhere. The historical evidence is being uncovered that he was neither. He, more than any other individual, elevated Ibn Saud to Arab primacy by a subsidy of $25,000,000; he fomented the organization of the Arab Legion; he sold his Jewish friends for some barrels of oil. He played ducks and drakes with the emotional aspirations of a suffering people who were devoted to his personal fortunes.

The tragic effect of this betrayal is upon those who, victims of the war, hoped and prayed for personal rehabilitation in the spiritually satisfying atmosphere of Palestine. I suppose that now they will be left to die in European concentration camps while Ibn Saud erects a monument of desert sand to his American benefactor.

The betrayal of the Jews attracts more attention than the betrayal of the Koreans, who at Yalta were cut in two so that neither part can remain nationally alive. The Russians hold the northern half; the United States holds the southern half; and never the twain shall unite. It can be stated now, without fear of contradiction, that Korea is much worse off than she was under the Japanese. Then, at any rate, there was a Korean today there are two half-Koreans. Then a railroad brought coal from the north to the agricultural areas of the south, and food to the industrial areas of the north. Now a wall stands between them—a wall built on plans prepared at Yalta where three cynical and tired men drew lines on paper in the secrecy of their own magnificence and called it diplomacy. Should Korea ever discover a way of freeing itself from the Yalta betrayal, it might erect a tombstone of shame to honor those who spoke of democracy and did deeds of tyranny and oppression.

As I wrote these lines, I was impelled to look at the Atlantic Charter, that last gasp of idealism, now so completely betrayed and abandoned. My eye fell upon the fourth article of this document signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill. It reads:

"Fourth, they will endeavor with due respect for their existing obligations, to further the enjoyment of all states, great or small, victor or vanquished, of access, on equal terms, to the trade and to the raw materials of the world which are needed for their economic prosperity."

Note the words:

"All states, great or small, victor or vanquished." That was in August, 1941. Great Britain was in fear of defeat; the United States was not yet officially at war, although secretly Mr. Roosevelt had already committed his country to both the European and Japanese wars, as the record now shows; Soviet Russia had only been in a few months after Hitler's breach of the Hitler-Stalin Alliance. Those were dark days when men's souls soared to lofty heights of human idealism. That idealism, word, realism, had not yet become the all-prevailing apology and explanation for every outrage against human decency. It was a moment when there were very serious doubts as to which nation would be great and which small, who the victor and who the vanquished, when the day of doom finally arrived.

And so the Atlantic Charter was hurled at a world hungry for one ray of moral light upon the Stygian and hopeless desolity. The Atlantic Charter was announced in the spirit and tone of Wilsonian democracy. And now all that is betrayed, too. Forgotten, ignored, even scorned is the Atlantic Charter with its promise of charity and kindness and forgiveness. In its place has come imperialistic realism, diplomacy by blackmail and, worst of all, the betrayal of every promise, of every hope for justice. Palestine and Korea are incidents; the betrayals are legion.

ACUTE GALL BLADDER INFLAMMATION

In the early days of the knowledge of appendicitis when what was called acute indigestion was found to be really appendicitis, many lives were saved by operation. While occasionally the appendix was not to blame for the pain and other symptoms the fact that the appendix was removed was not criticized as it was felt that any chance of appendix was removed by this operation and removal of appendix was the story is told of two British mining engineers about to depart to a remote region in a foreign country. They entered the hospital and had appendix removed as they expected to be hundreds of miles away from a doctor or hospital during their trip.

That the danger of neglecting acute gall bladder inflammation resembles neglect of appendicitis is stated by Dr. Walter Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic whose research work on digestive disturbances is internationally recognized.

One of the difficulties in the treatment of liver and gall bladder trouble is that while a little fat food can be handled by an ailing liver and also helps empty the bile from the gall bladder. Large amounts of fat food put too much work on both liver and gall bladder. Dr. Alvarez states that instead of cutting down on fat foods more important to the patient is the avoidance of rich and heavy meals. That is, the proportion of fat emitted from the diet in the treatment of gall bladder diseases by many physicians is too much. All physicians doing research work in digestion agree that most patients with cholecystitis (inflammation of gall bladder) do better on small meals even if four or five meals a day are needed.

What about a gall bladder that is causing acute pain and digestive upsets?

As a rule, once a gall bladder is causing a good deal of pain and gas formation it should be removed. "Specially if the patient travels much or lives away from a competent surgeon."

An X-ray and dye test of gall bladder is always a good investment and is not expensive.

I Hope You Never Have to Use It—

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The Common Council on October 5, 1920, went on record in favor of a 7-cent fare on the local trolley roads in preference to the proposed abandonment of the Colonial Line of the trolley road. On October 13, of that year, the trolley road filed a petition with the Public Service Commission asking for a 7-cent fare, and enclosing the resolution, adopted by the aldermen, with the petition.

Older readers will recall that during 1920 there was considerable agitation on the part of the trolley road for permission to abandon the Colonial Division of the trolley road on the ground that the division did not pay.

The trolley road filed a petition with the Public Service Commission asking that permission to abandon be granted, and the city authorities objected strongly to any abandonment of any part of the trolley system.

The Veterans Volunteer Firemen's Association came into existence on September 30, 1920, at a meeting of volunteer firemen held at the city hall. Andrew J. Murphy was elected president of the new organization, and the other officers chosen were Joseph C. Hurley, vice president; J. Philip Beichler, secretary; and Dr. Mortimer Snerd, treasurer.

And speaking of volunteer firemen, undoubtedly many readers will recall the years when the annual Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association met in Kingston, and closed the annual convention with a big firemen's parade. They may also recall the diminutive-sized man who walked behind one of the parade wagons, carrying a large duster.

That small man was Charles Smith, better known as "Little Charley Clearwater," who died on September 23, 1920, aged 65 years.

For a number of years he was employed at the old log factory operated by John Pettit in Jacob's Valley, near the West Shore railroad tracks. Later he was employed by the street department.

He was in great demand by local fire companies when they participated in any firemen's parade. Charley was not only widely known but well liked by all who knew him. He always had the appearance of being the happiest man in the parade.

The golden anniversary of Mrs. Jane A. Woods of 44 West Union street as a member of Colonial Rebekah Lodge was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies on August 23, 1920.

That evening Mayor Palmer presided on behalf of the lodge presented Mrs. Woods with a purse of gold, and congratulated her on completing half a century in the Rebekah order, where she was known as the "mother of three Rebekah Lodges."

Her 50 years as a Rebekah was celebrated with music and a social evening, with many visiting Rebekahs present to pay her honor.

Among those taking part in the exercises were Julia Lauric, Elsie Shipman, William Hurton, Mrs. Mary Mott, Mrs. Emma Gill, Miss Josephine Cronin and Minnie Yalton.

War Department Proposes Merger

The War Department has been directed by military personnel of general officer rank during the war.

The fourth department might handle military intelligence. He commented that "there probably should be some central intelligence agency for the government as a whole, but this is a problem beyond the scope of the department of armed forces itself."

The plan proposed a rotation system which it said should insure that no one branch of the service would dominate military thought. It provided that the chief of staff to the President and the chief of staff of the armed forces should at no time come from the same component.

It suggested the chief of staff for the armed forces not more than three, and the chiefs of staff for each of the three services not more than four.

The plan would continue the wartime system under which theatre commanders are selected by the President on the recommendation of the joint chiefs of staff, and operate under directives prepared by the chiefs with the approval of the President.

Sheffield Accident Second at Highland

When William Sheffield, 36, of 305 Godwin avenue, Ridgewood, N. Y., was injured at the mid-Hudson bridge traffic circle Sunday evening it was the second accident for the family at the same spot.

The previous accident happened 23 years ago to the day when his sister was killed in a similar accident in a car driven by his father.

Sheffield told State Police that as he was driving south at the bridge circle at Highland Sunday evening his car struck the concrete blinker light standard. Why the accident happened he was unable to say. Exactly 23 years ago to the day, at the same spot, his sister was killed in a similar accident. Sheffield was slightly injured but required hospital care.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(As Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The resurgence of bloody strife between the powerful Chinese Communist armies and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government forces may signal the dread civil war which long has threatened China—a disaster of the first magnitude.

A worried world heaved a sigh of relief in mid-October when the Chinese Reds and the generalissimo reached an agreement which ostensibly meant peace at long last. However, the ink was scarcely dry on the pact before the clash of arms was resumed and swelled until now heavy fighting is reported in numerous parts of the country, especially the northern section which is the stronghold of the Communists.

You may recall that as far back as early in 1943 I reported in this column, after a visit to China, that well informed observers feared the fierce quarrel could be settled only by civil war. The two factions were working under a truce in face of their common Japanese enemy, but even then there were sanguinary clashes and the great fear was that the all-out civil upheaval would come before the Japs were beaten.

Whether we have now arrived at the show-down remains to be seen. We shouldn't rush to conclusions, but the situation is grave. The trouble is that trying to make a union of the Chinese Communists and General Chiang's Kuomintang dictatorship is like attempting to mix oil and water. The ideas and ideals of the two factions are as far apart as the Poles. They just won't mix.

Chungking observers are frankly pessimistic about the chances of reconciliation between the Chinese Communists and Chiang's government, the atmosphere of the ancient city is heavy with gloom.

And what would civil war bring to China? There is no conflict so terrible as civil strife. It would mean that the country's five hundred millions would endure an agony far greater than anything they experienced during the Japanese invasion. It would hamstring rehabilitation of the nation's shattered economic structure. China's proud designation as one of the "Big Four" would indeed be an empty phrase.

It also might mean, as I see the picture, a further division of China. Unless Generalissimo Chiang could crush the Reds—and they are powerful—then likely would split off a huge territory in northern China and set up an independent state there. Indeed, in the long run such a division may be the only solution.

Could this be a moment where the Big Three might use their influence to halt the strife?

Statement on Halloween by Chief of Police

To the Citizens of the City of Kingston, New York:

We are again approaching that one day that is a headache to the members of the Police Department as well as many owners of homes throughout the City, and that day is Halloween.

In former years it was bad enough to destroy property, which is a malicious act, but now that the war is over, it will be something before we can get the necessary replacements for parts of properties that will be damaged. I respectfully request our younger generation that they refrain from any malicious acts in this City especially on this particular night.

Make your fun on Halloween in innocent fun. Don't play pranks that might hurt anyone or cause anyone to expend unnecessary money to replace property. Parade and masquerade all you like, but "PLAY SAFE." Remember, if you will not go on dangerous adventures, but plan your fun with your parents. Stop and think before you wax and soap car windows. Poor vision on automobiles causes many accidents. If it is absolutely necessary to destroy property destroy that which belongs to your own parents, and I am sure that they will correct that wrong without citing you into court.

Our Mayor, William F. Edelmuth, is opening the municipal auditorium where all persons are invited to have a good time under the supervision of competent supervisors. When the entertainment is over, go to your respective homes feeling satisfied that you have not hurt anyone or any persons property.

Carefulness and safety should head your list of rules if you wish to spend a happy Halloween.

Yours very truly,
CHARLES PHINNEY,
Chief of Police

Seymour and Girl Held in Jail for Kingston Police

Edward Seymour, 50, and a 15-year-old girl whom he said was his wife were held today in the Berkeley county jail at Martinsburg, W. Va., for Kingston police officers, Sheriff W. Strong Lewis, of Martinsburg, reported to the Associated Press.

Lewis said the man was wanted on charges of abduction and assault of the girl.

The sheriff quoted Seymour that he and the girl were married in South Carolina and were en route back to Kingston when they were taken into custody at Martinsburg over the week-end.

Seymour was arrested on a fugitive warrant issued by a magistrate at the request of Prosecutor Clarence E. Martin, Jr., of Martinsburg.

COSTS HIT TEACHERS

High cost of room and board threatens to drive school teachers to other work in Australia and the government's aid is being sought to find a solution, according to reports received in Sydney. The New South Wales Public Service Board already has agreed to repay teachers who have to pay more than $7 a week.

If they earn less than $18 a year, but this relief is not sufficient, it is claimed. Teachers, many of them under 21, frequently have only a dollar or so left after paying for their accommodations, the Teachers' Federation declares.

LONG ON PROMISES...SHORT ON PERFORMANCE

OPPOSITION SPOKESMEN OPEN NEW HUDSON RIVER BRIDGE THEY PROMISED IN 1943

*Where Is the Bridge
Promised in 1943?*

Where Is the Ferry Promised Months Ago?

THEY ARE AS SUBSTANTIAL AS THE PROMISES THE OPPOSITION PARTY MAKES EVERY TWO YEARS

THEY ARE AS SUBSTANTIAL AS THE PROMISES THE OPPOSITION CANDIDATES MAKE TODAY

OPPOSITION SPOKESMEN BOARDING THE FERRY THEY PROMISED IN 1945

DON'T RELY ON PROMISES—RELY ON PERFORMANCES!

TWO YEARS AGO IT WAS PAYLESS PAYDAYS FOR MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES, CURTAILMENT OF MUNICIPAL SERVICES, HIGHER TAXES—AND A BRIDGE!

THE RECORD PROVES THE OPPOSITION WAS WRONG IN THESE MATTERS AS IT HAS BEEN WRONG IN SO MANY OTHERS.

THE RECORD

MUNICIPAL WORKERS HAVE BEEN PAID FOR EVERY DAY THEY WORKED, MUNICIPAL SERVICES HAVE NOT BEEN REDUCED ONE IOTA, THE TAX RATE HAS BEEN CUT TO THE LOWEST FIGURE IN YEARS,

And

The City's Bonded Debt Has Been Reduced
More Than HALF A MILLION DOLLARS!

But

You Haven't THE BRIDGE the Opposition Promised You!
You Haven't THE FERRY the Opposition Promised You!

DON'T BE MISLED BY EMPTY PROMISES!

KINGSTON IS IN BETTER SHAPE, COMMERCIALLY AND FINANCIALLY THAN EVER BEFORE. KEEP IT THAT WAY BY ELECTING SERVANTS WHO ARE INTERESTED IN KINGSTON AS A HAPPY, PROSPEROUS, PROGRESSIVE HOME TOWN.

KEEP KINGSTON MOVING FORWARD

CONTINUE GOOD, HONEST GOVERNMENT

VOTE FOR

MAYOR Wm. F. EDELMUTH
FOR MAYOR

ERNEST M. HEPPNER
FOR ALDERMAN-AT-LARGE

FRANCIS MARTOCCI
FOR CITY JUDGE

VOTE ROW B

Sorosis Hears Paper on Rubber

At Meeting With Mrs. Hull Sorosis met with Mrs. Vernon Hull, 259 Smith avenue, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hull gave the paper for the day on "Art in Industry."

She spoke mainly of the rubber industry using the book, "The Weeping Wood" by Vicki Baum as source material. This group of stories relates the history of the discovery and development of the rubber tree and industry. The substance from the tree was first found about two hundred years ago by a Jesuit missionary and his Indian boy in South America. The seed was sent to England where the tree was developed. Plantations spread over the world with the greatest in the East Indies. Mrs. Hull also spoke of the making of tires in Akron, O., and of the need for cooperation between North and South America to promote the industry.

A current events discussion was held prior to the regular topic. Items were discussed concerning the Herald Tribune Forum and Victory Bond Loan.

Next week the club will meet with Mrs. Lorraine Wood at her home on Highland avenue. Mrs. Wood will give the paper on "Indian Arts and Crafts."

Mrs. Roosevelt Cancels Address

Would Avoid Embarrassment in Democratic Circles Because of Views

Atlanta, Oct. 30. (AP)—An engagement to address the young Democrats of Georgia at a statewide meeting here December 3 and 4 has been canceled by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to avoid "any embarrassment."

The former First Lady telegraphed her cancellations to Gov. Ellis Arnall yesterday in the wake of resignations by two members of the group's executive committee who voiced objections to her racial views.

In resigning from the organization last week Earl Wingo and Robert N. Fellows said Mrs. Roosevelt favored "racial social equality."

The late President's widow telegraphed Arnall:

"Since message from Associated Press about dissension within ranks of young Democrats over my coming to Atlanta was given me I have thought seriously about the engagement and have decided it is much wiser for me to cancel my coming as I do not want to cause any embarrassment. So please accept my thanks for your kindness and my regrets that I cannot keep this engagement."

Arnall's telegraphed reply said in part that it was a source of "regret and embarrassment" that "two members of the young Democrats so far forgot themselves, proprieties and southern hospitality as to be guilty of discourtesy and disrespect to the widow of our greatest President and to a woman who means so much to America."

During early coast to coast air mail flights, farmers along the route were enlisted to build bonfires to guide pilots in their first night flights.

Stang Outlines Good Government Republicans Give

The hospital has accomplished miraculous results in the field of tuberculosis prevention. It has been the policy of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors that good health is one of our most valuable possessions.

Public Health Program

It was with that policy in mind that the Republican Board of Supervisors in 1940 established a county-wide public health nursing service. This service, embracing all phases of modern public health service, is administered by nine full-time public health nurses. The Ulster County Nursing Service ranks high throughout the state for the excellence of its work.

The county of Ulster has one of the best county highway systems in the state. All county roads are in excellent condition. They are in excellent condition because the Republican Board of Supervisors annually appropriates in its budget sufficient funds properly to maintain and reconstruct them. Ulster county does not let its highways deteriorate through lack of attention. As for snow removal, all motorists know when they are entering or leaving Ulster county by the excellent way in which the roads are plowed and sanded. They have the equipment and they use it.

Highways Are Big Asset

Our good county highways are an asset in many ways. They provide good transportation facilities for our own residents and they attract many visitors who come to Ulster county for recreation. As you know, Ulster county is a fast growing resort area. Our lakes, streams and mountains attract thousands of visitors and tourists. Realizing what that means to the people of Ulster county in the way of trade and employment, the Republican Board of Supervisors annually appropriates $2,500.00 to assist in publicizing our recreational advantages. As a result of such progressive measures, 17 million dollars was spent in Ulster county during the past season by visitors and tourists.

The Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, with its main office on Main street in Kingston and branch offices located in Saugerties, Ellenville and Highland, is performing splendid service for returning veterans and their families.

Affairs Are in Good Order

The affairs of this county are in good order. The county is entirely free of bonded debt or any other form of indebtedness. Those responsible have done their duty well. The policies which have achieved these results for Ulster county are the policies of the Republican Party. In voting for supervisor in your town or ward, remember this. If you want a continuation of this kind of government in Ulster county, you may have it. The way to get it is to vote for your Republican candidate for supervisor.

Now let me emphasize to you the importance of the Common Council of the city of Kingston.

The Common Council, or Board of Aldermen of this City likewise has many notable accomplishments to its credit during the past two years.

As you all know, the Republican majority in the Council, joined in some cases by all members of the Council, sponsored and passed legislation insuring fair wages for all city employees.

Rights of Veterans Protected

The Republican majority also championed the rights of veterans when they introduced a resolution, unanimously passed, requesting the executive branch of the city government to refrain during wartime from making further appointments and promotions in the civil service. The council requested city boards to make temporary appointments only, and so refrain from making permanent appointments until those absent in the armed services were discharged and home so that they, too, could take competitive civil service examinations both for new appointments and for promotions. As the result of this action by the Council, city boards discontinued the practice of making permanent appointments and the Council's action preserved the rights of all veterans during their absence in the armed forces.

When the 1945 budget was submitted to the Common Council, the Republican majority, through their alertness, discovered that only half of the amount the city was to receive this year from the State Emergency Tax on Public Utilities was included in the budget, instead of the total amount of $50,000. The correction of this error by the Republican majority, led to a reduction of $108 in the 1945 general tax rate.

In January, 1944, and again in January, 1945, the Republican majority pointed out that the budgets for those years were unconstitutional because more taxes were raised on local real estate than was permitted under the State Constitution. Both budgets were finally adopted upon the assurance of the Corporation Counsel that the budgets were constitutional. The Corporation Counsel, although appointed by the Mayor, is the official legal adviser of the Common Council.

Contention Is Confirmed

A recent report of the State Department of Audit & Control, covering an examination of the accounts of the City for the year 1944, confirmed the contention of the Republican majority in the Council. That report stated that the 1944 budget was $27,000 in excess of the amount permitted by the State Constitution to be taxes on local real estate. That means that you local taxpayers were forced to pay $27,000 more in real estate taxes during 1944 than you should have paid under the provisions of the State Constitution. Translated into terms of tax rates, this means that the tax rate in 1944 should have been over a dollar less than it was.

Now, briefly, what is the two percent Constitutional Tax Limitation? It is simply this. No city is permitted legally to raise by taxation on real estate an amount more than two per cent of the average assessed valuations for the five previous years, exclusive of state and county charges and of debt service. In other words, for every $100,000 of assessed valuation, only $2,000 may legally be raised to pay for the cost of city government. The city's share of the cost of operating the county government and the amount paid off in maturing bonds and interest is excluded from the limitation and in no way effect the application of the limitation. In other words, for the purpose of applying this taxing limit, the city's share of the cost of state and county government, and debt service, are not considered a part of the cost of running the city.

Amendment Is Reviewed

Perhaps it would be helpful if at this time I briefly reviewed the steps that led up to this amendment to our State Constitution. In 1938, a Constitutional Convention was called to revise the State Constitution. The delegates to that convention were deeply concerned with the constantly rising costs of local government with increasing burdens of taxation being placed on owners of real estate. As far back as 1924, the late Morris Block, then mayor of Kingston, on page 11 of his annual message called attention to the increasing cost of local government. He pointed out that in 1905 governmental expenditures of the city of Kingston, including the cost of education, totaled $202,166.25 and that sum had increased by 1915 to $502,434.92. By 1945 the expenditures of the city were $1,250,690.12 for general purposes and $754,434.67 for education, a total of over two million dollars.

Of course, we all know that local governments have been called on to greatly expand their municipal services since those earlier days. But I have used the city of Kingston as a graphic example of the problem of rising governmental costs with which the Constitutional Convention was concerned.

Control Is Placed

The convention, after considerable study, then devised the two per cent tax limitation formula in an attempt to place some limit and control upon the amount of taxes a city could legally raise. This formula became a new section of the State Constitution which was adopted by the people of this state in 1938.

You might ask: If a city's budget is unconstitutional, why is it permitted? The answer is: The only way in which a city government may be compelled to comply with the law is for an aggrieved taxpayer to appeal to the courts for an injunction restraining the city from imposing a tax in excess of the amount permitted by the State Constitution.

The Republican majority in the council did all it could. It publicly stated that, in its opinion, the budget was illegal. It was compelled to accept the advice of its official legal adviser who assured them that the budget was legal. Since you believe the Republican majority in the Common Council discharged its duties so well, you may insure a continuation of Republican control in the Common Council by voting for your Republican candidate for Alderman in your ward.

Now, I should like to talk to you about economic conditions in our city.

Mayor Claims Credit

Last Thursday night, in a campaign speech, the Democratic candidate for mayor, claimed credit for the improved economic conditions which have prevailed here during the war.

I hardly think it necessary for me to point out to you that this boom was not confined to the City of Kingston but that it was statewide and nationwide. That always happens during a war, and every community, large or small, benefits thereby. We here in Kingston had industries employing large numbers of men and women working on war contracts. These workers made and spent money. The increased incomes of our workers and others, raised the purchasing power of the entire city. This naturally was reflected in increased business for everyone.

But you said I know that this great business activity was not normal. It was entirely created by war-time conditions. So I say to you, again, no individual should or can claim the slightest amount of credit for bringing about a condition of prosperity which was brought about by only one cause, and that was the war.

A local community can, however, by electing men with vision and foresight such as Abe Molyneux, go a long way toward economic stability, if their own government house is in order. In closing, let me say that a vote for the entire Republican ticket on November 6, will insure to all that Kingston will not slip backward. Kingston will not stand still, but Kingston will move ahead.

Hospital Plan May Be Continued With Job Change

New York, Oct. 29—Blue Cross subscribers who change jobs may continue their coverage of hospital expense by transferring to a group at their new place of employment or by paying dues directly to their original Blue Cross plan.

Today's session of the National Blue Cross Conference being held in New York was addressed by James F. Cowan, Jr., field director of the Blue Cross Hospital Service Plan Commission.

"We of Blue Cross are making a specific effort to demonstrate to subscribers the truth of our national slogan 'Once a Blue Cross member always a Blue Cross member,'" Cowan said.

"Permission to continue Blue Cross protection upon leaving one's place of employment is a valuable privilege of these 85 non-profit community-sponsored hospital service plans."

Continuing, Cowan outlined methods by which this privilege will be brought to the attention of subscribers affected by reconstruction lay-offs. It was suggested that plans issue messages to the public through newspapers, poster and payroll announcements and request employers to inform employees of the continuance policy by interviews and special messages. In addition it was suggested plans make special arrangements to facilitate transfers and to handle efficiently the large volume of inquiries from interested members.

"It is estimated that more than 50 per cent of Blue Cross members who were laid off during the reconversion period will elect to continue their Blue Cross protection," Cowan concluded.
